

Guidelines for payment to speakers/lecturers.

General Principles

Special rules apply when a “religious practitioner is undertaking activities in the pursuit of a vocation as a religious practitioner, and as a member of a religious institution”. The Tax Act basically deems them to be employees even if they are not, so the PAYG rules for religious practitioners apply.

How an amount is described does not determine its treatment for tax purposes. Describing a payment as an honorarium will not of itself mean that the payment can be made without a consideration of its tax treatment. However, if payments are small and simply cover expenses incurred, it may be possible to treat the amounts as non-taxable honoraria (see Honoraria fact sheet).

Religious Practitioner within the PCV

Payments for speaking will be subject to PAYG rules for religious practitioners. The payment may be able to be paid in part or wholly as an exempt fringe benefit (NCB).

Religious Practitioner from outside PCV

Either:

1. The practitioner’s home church may issue a tax invoice to PCV and then pass the payment to the practitioner through their local pay arrangements. This may enable the home church to provide the payment to the speaker as an exempt benefit (NCB).
2. The speaker completes and provides a Tax File Number Declaration form. PAYG tax will be deducted from the payment at the rate determined according to the information provided. A payment summary will be issued.
3. PAYG tax of 46.5% will be deducted from the payment. A payment summary will be issued.

Person employed by PCV but not a Religious Practitioner

- a) A genuine honorarium for a minimal amount (less than $300) is being made.
Payment can be made as a minor Fringe Benefit to employees e.g. a gift card, but not as cash. Payment of cash would be subject to PAYG tax being deducted.
- b) Payments of $300 or more or payments not considered to be a genuine honorarium are subject to PAYG tax being deducted.

Overseas person from USA

No additional information is required. Payment can be made without deducting tax based on the double tax treaty between Australia and USA.

Overseas person from other country

If the country has an appropriate double tax treaty with Australia, no additional information is required. Payment can be made without deducting tax.
Otherwise PAYG withholding tax of 46.5% must be deducted from the payment.
Please seek advice from the General Manager in advance.

Australian person not a Religious Practitioner and not employed by PCV

If either:

1. The payment is $75 or less.
2. The supplier quotes an ABN.
3. The supplier provides a completed form "Statement by Supplier (reason for not quoting an ABN)". When asking a supplier to complete this form, care should be taken not to provide advice or imply that the supplier is able to complete the form. The supplier must make their own consideration in good faith as to whether they are able to sign the form. There will be instances where none of the categories are applicable to the supplier and they should not complete the form.

Payment can be made in full.

Otherwise, PAYG withholding tax of 46.5% must be deducted from the payment.
